COUNTY BOARD BACKS PLAN ON ROAD "TRADE"

The Adams County Board of School Directors, at its regular meeting Monday night at the court house, gave its endorsement to a resolution adopted by the Mt. Pleasant township road board requesting the state to take over the highway from Sweet Home to the White Hall school, in exchange for the White Hall School-Mt. Rock road.

The proposed "trade" has been taken up with State Senator Donald P. McPherson, and is now before the state legislature, County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh told the directors. Taking over the road by the state is desired so that it may be improved and utilized as a school bus route. In its present condition it needs widening and improving. The town board does not have sufficient funds to improve it, Mr. Slaybaugh said.

The road it is proposed to have the state take over is 3.4 miles in length. The road the town board would accept from the state and maintain in place of the other is 3.1 miles in length.

Re-elect Crouse
Lloyd E. Crouse, Littlestown, was re-elected treasurer of the county board for a one-year term beginning July 4. A review of legislation affecting schools was given by Superintendent Slaybaugh and Assistant Superintendent Charles I. Raffensperger.

The board directed the county office to write to C. P. Keefer, president of the Adams County Health Council, requesting a report on a balance of $227.50 in the council's treasury, and a request that the money be turned back to the school board if the council did not desire to make use of it. Superintendent Slaybaugh said there were several cases for which the money could be used by the school board.

Approve "Fast Time"
The board adopted a motion approving the operation of the county's public schools on daylight saving time from April 24 to September (Please Turn to Page 2)

Woodside in Dauphin county court Monday.

Cobern, who originally came from Philadelphia, may file a petition for a parole after 60 days and it will be given consideration by Judge Woodside, the latter said.

AUXILIARY WILL HELP FIREPROOF LOCAL HOSPITAL

The Women's Auxiliary of the Warner hospital, meeting Monday afternoon at the board room of the hospital, voted to change the project listed for the annual benefit to be held by the organization June 23.

Basing its decision on the recent tragedy in an Illinois hospital, the auxiliary voted to set aside for the time being its previously announced plans of purchasing a new operating room light and the like from money raised by the benefit. Instead the money will be used to purchase new fire proof doors to go between the old hospital and the Musselman annex, and to purchase a metal laundry chute for the old hospital building.

The present laundry chute is a wooden structure, it was pointed out. The fire at the Illinois hospital began and was spread by a wooden chute and the auxiliary, board of directors of the hospital and staff agreed that it will be best to replace the chute as soon as possible so that every precaution can be taken against fire.

Estimate Cost At $700
Three new fire doors will be installed, one in the basement, another on the first floor and the third on the second floor. The Musselman annex is completely fire proof, it was pointed out, and the patients in the old portion of the hospital could be quickly wheeled on their beds to the Musselman annex and the doors closed, cutting off all danger of fire, if a fire should occur in the old part of the hospital.

Cost of the new doors was "guessed" at approximately $700, although it may be higher than that amount. However it was decided to go ahead with the project at whatever cost.

The purchase of new ice chests for the diet kitchens of the old portion of the hospital, which was part of the previously announced project is being retained as part of the new project, it was decided.

The operating room light will be purchased at some future date, it was stated, with money for that project to be raised possibly through next year's annual benefit.

Mrs. Elmer Warren has been named community chairman for the benefit to be held June 23 in the air conditioned Moose home. Howard Gale's orchestra will play for the dance held as part of the benefit.

Community chairmen include, Gettysburg, Mrs. LeRoy Winebrenner, Mrs. Fred Bryson, Mrs. Raymond Unks, Mrs. Marie Ziegler; Ar-

Fifteen large baskets of food will be given away each evening to the holders of lucky numbers. Mrs. Coverly-Smith will prepare two complete meals each evening and the food will also be given away as gifts.

Wednesday evening, the closing night of the Gettysburg school, at least 25 grand prizes will be awarded.

The annex will be attractively decorated for the cooking school. Joseph Smith, local electrician, is arranging special lighting effects for the large stage from where Mrs. Coverly-Smith will do her demonstrating. Amplifiers will be placed throughout the annex to enable every person in the auditorium to hear with ease everything said by the demonstrator.

ROTARIANS ARE GIVEN REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Reports on the recent district convention of Rotary at Carlisle and a resume of the rules and regulations governing the conduct of Rotary clubs were features of Monday evening's session of the local Rotary club at the YWCA.

Vice President William G. Weaver, Dr. Bruce N. Wolff and W. Clayton Jester spoke on the Carlisle session. Attorney Edward B. Bullett outlined details of "Rotary Rules."

Weaver told of a number of activities carried out by other Rotary clubs as outlined at the Carlisle session. Among those which can be used by most clubs is a career program for high school youngsters, he added. The program calls for a standing arrangement with high school principals whereby the principal, as he learns of the career ambitions of various students, calls the member of Rotary who is in the profession which the students are contemplating. The student is then sent to the store or office of the Rotarian and spends some time there to learn the requirements and needs of the employment.

Harrisburg, April 26 (AP) — A bill to impose a tax of one cent a bushel on apples in Pennsylvania for promotion purposes was killed today by a Senate committee.

The Senate Agriculture committee voted 8-5 to shelve the House-passed bill for the remainder of the session.

Chairman George B. Scarlett (R-Chester) said the action "is final as far as I am concerned."

"There will be no further efforts to revive this bill this session," he added.

PCBL UNIT'S ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

The Queen of Peace Council of the Pennsylvania Catholic Beneficial League celebrated its 31st anniversary Monday evening with a banquet held in Bankert's restaurant, near here.

Tribute was paid to the women's organization of the local Catholic church by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of the church, in the principal talk of the evening.

During the course of his remarks Father Stock also paid tribute to the Rev. Fr. Louis F. Forgeng, assistant pastor at the local church for the past two years, who is being transferred Monday to Lancaster.

Fr. Stock Lauds PCBL

Father Stock recalled that the Queen of Peace Council's life and his own pastorate here have covered about the same span of years. He was stationed here nearly 31 years ago, arriving shortly after the local PCBL unit was established under Father Boyle. "During the years the council has done much fine work, in fact I don't know what the parish would have done without the help of the organization," he added.

Recalling the three decades, he pointed out that the parish has spent over $200,000 in construction during that time, building the convent, reconstructing the church, remodeling the rectory and in repairs to the school. The church now has $80,000 in its treasury, he pointed out, adding that the remodeling and addition to the school planned to start this summer will take much more than the surplus, possibly $130,000. Plans call for construction of eight new classrooms to the rear of the present building, which will be used while the new classrooms are being built, the old school will then be remodeled.

Fifty members were present for the program which opened with a salute to the flag, the singing of "America" and prayer by Father Stock. Patricia Bushey sang "Ave" (Please turn to Page 8)

Here And There News Collected At Random

The Gettysburg Young Women's Christian association is observing National YWCA Week. It officially opened on Sunday and closes next Saturday evening.

It was almost a century ago that a small group of women met in New York city. They assembled to "do something" about the industrial revolution which was depriving women of many of their household tasks. Many were out of work, some were homeless and some were in ill health.

Meeting as a little prayer circle the group asked Divine guidance in their effort to improve the welfare of employed women. Obtaining boarding homes was one of their first tasks.

Thus it was that the YWCA got under way in the United States. It has expanded to more than 440 communities, 609 associations on college and university campuses and into 1,550 village and rural areas. The organization is also in operation in 68 other nations, all united under the sign of the Blue Triangle, dedicated to "the glory of God and the service of young women."

The YWCA is well out in front in many of its public affairs program to keep people informed of current trends in the nation and the world. Because of its world-wide connections it is a force for international peace.

ASSAULT CASE GOES TO JURY FOR VERDICT

An Adams county jury this afternoon began deliberations on the case of aggravated assault and battery brought against Joseph M. Condon, Fairfield, by William Richardson, also of Fairfield.

The case was turned over to the jury about 2 o'clock after Judge W. C. Sheely completed his charge. The district attorney, Daniel E. Teeter, and Condon's attorney, Edward B. Bullett, completed their arguments before lunch.

During the morning a succession of witnesses told of an altercation between Condon and a Clyde Musselman in a tavern near Fairfield. Condon left the tavern and then engaged in what appeared to be an argument with several men and finally grabbed a beer bottle from the hand of Richardson, struck him over the head with the beer bottle and ripped his coat and cut his chest with a knife. Condon claimed Richardson had struck him first and that he was protecting himself when he hit and cut Richardson. Richardson claimed he struck Condon after he was cut in order to protect himself.

Divorce Granted

The court this morning handed down a decree in divorce to Mary Louise Anthony, 135 West Middle street, from Mark W. Anthony, Chambersburg.

The court also permitted continuance of the case of false pretense brought by Eugene Haas against Wilson E. Bixler, Hanover R. 1, until the August term after Bixler's attorneys argued that more time was needed to complete an audit of Bixler's books as part of the defense of the case.

Jury Asks Leniency

The jury hearing the case of Jerome E. Ennis, Gettysburg R. 5, charged with drunken driving, spent two hours and ten minutes in deliberation before returning at 6:30 o'clock Monday night with a verdict of "guilty," but the jury recommends leniency.

Testimony given in the case during the afternoon by Ennis and Dr. John J. Knox, local physician, indicated that Ennis is suffering from effects of wounds received during the war which would prevent him from being able to "pass" successfully muscular coordination tests given by police to determine sobriety such as standing erect with his eyes closed, touching his nose with a finger and the like. However Ennis admitted in court that he had had a drink of whiskey and a drink of beer before being picked up on Baltimore street by state and local police on the drunken driving charge.

The Condon jury which began its deliberations this morning was drawn at the conclusion of Monday's sessions. It included H. Earl Bashehar, Littlestown R. 1; Harriet L. Baugher, Aspers; George E. Burner, Gettysburg; George Fickes, York Springs R. 1; Jesse D. Hamm, McSherrytown; Charles F. Redding, Gettysburg; Clair Shank, Idaville. H. H. Starry, York Springs; Kenneth L. ## POLICE QUIZ MOTHER, SONS IN SLAYINGS

Dover, Del., April 26 (AP)—Additional statements by Mrs. Inez Brennan and her three sons, all under arrest in Delaware's "Lonely Hearts" slaying, were under study by police today.

Detective Eugene Droffner of the New Jersey state police and Camden (N. J.) county Detective Wilfred Dabie joined Delaware officers in the eight-hour questioning of the woman and her sons last night. Droffner declined to disclose any results but said two New Jersey cases are still "under investigation."

These, he said, are the drowning of Mrs. Nettie Henderson Phillips, 72, in Lindenwood, and the wounding of Mrs. Bessie Watkins. Both were neighbors of the Brennan family when they lived at Laurel Springs, N. J.

Robbery Was Motive
Mrs. Brennan and her youngest son, Robert, 15, have been charged with murder in the death of Wade N. Woodbridge, 67, Bedford, Va., carpenter. Her other sons, George, 17, and Raymond, 23, are charged with being accessories.

In addition, state police say all four have signed statements that Woodbridge was shot by Robert Brennan and that Mrs. Brennan killed Hugo Schulz, 61, Epsom, N. H. Col. Herbert Barnes of the Delaware state police said the statements listed robbery as the motive in each killing, and added that Mrs. Brennan met both men through "Lonely Hearts" club letters.

The questioning of Mrs. Brennan and her sons began yesterday after George, an air force recruit, was held without bail by Judge Ernest V. Keith as an accessory in the death of Woodbridge.

At the brief hearing George offered to plead guilty to the charge. But Judge Keith ruled that under Delaware law that plea cannot be accepted in a capital case and directed that a plea of "not guilty" be entered.

Later, Capt. Frederick K. Lamb of the Delaware state police announced Robert Brennan had signed another statement relating that he shot and killed both Schulz and Brennan. Lamb said Robert made that statement after being reunited with his mother and brothers for the first time since their arrest.

In reply to a reporter's question, Deputy Attorney General Henry J. Ridgely said Delaware law specifically forbids hanging as punishment for persons under 14 years of age who are convicted of murder. However, he added, it is "my understanding that the fixed practice is that no one under 18 be hanged."

Sullivan Quits As Navy Head

Washington, April 26 (AP)—Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan resigned today in protest against scrapping the 65,000-ton super aircraft carrier.

A White House announcement on Sullivan's departure was understood at noon to be in preparation.

Sullivan is known to have submitted his resignation in a talk with the President yesterday. His action, which had been expected, is based on his belief that the Navy is not being given proper consideration in defense policy.

Secretary of Defense Johnson's order Saturday to stop work on the $189,000,000 carrier was just one of a series of incidents against which Sullivan is protesting, associates said.

Top White House aides expressed belief Sunday night that the torpedoing of the carrier project was "the straw that broke the camel's back" so far as Sullivan is concerned.

Seventeen Given First Communion

Seventeen children of primary school age, 13 boys and four girls, received their first Holy Communion at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, New Oxford, at the first mass Sunday at 7:30 a. m. The mass was a high mass with the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, as celebrant. The regular church choir sang the mass with Mrs. Thomas G. French presiding at the organ.

The children entered the church dressed entirely in white, the little girls wearing net veils, and were preceded by altar boys, one bearing a processional cross and two with lighted candles. Ahead of the group of boys and girls were two boys and two girls, also with flower-decorated lighted candles. These light-bearers were from among parish children who had previously received their first Holy Communion.

Before the mass and during the Holy Communion, Mrs. French played Eucharistic hymns of the Catholic church. In observance of the Easter season, the offertory hymn was "Regina Coeli, Laetare."

The children were given Holy Communion by Father Hartnett in the sanctuary of the church where they were preceded by the candle-bearers. After mass the first communicants and other parish children recited the Holy Communion prayers together, led by the Sisters of Mercy who teach at the parochial school and who had trained them for this sacrament.

SEWELL HOLDS MASTERY OVER CHICAGO CUBS

By the AP
Truett (Rip) Sewell, the old Cub killer from way back, is showing signs of "slipping" at last.

The 40-year-old "blooper" expert of the Pittsburgh Pirates actually allowed the Cubs two runs last night in pitching the Bucs to an 8-2 victory over his "cousins" from the windy city. If Ol' Rip doesn't watch out, those big, bad Bruins are liable to win a game from him before the season is over.

Sewell was tapped for 10 hits, but was effective in the clutches to register his second straight triumph over the Cubs this year, and his ninth against only one loss over a two-season stretch. He shut out the Cubs, 1-0, in the season's opener last week.

Sewell's lifetime record against the Bruins is phenomenal. He has whipped them 35 times in 54 decisions for better than 25 per cent of his overall 139 triumphs. No other big league pitcher can boast such mastery over a rival club.

The victory put the Pirates into a three-way tie for second place with Brooklyn and Boston, and a half-game behind the National league pace-setting New York Giants. The Cubs dropped into seventh place.

Giants Win Fourth
The Giants continued their winning ways, defeating the Phillies in Philadelphia, 6-3, for their fourth straight victory. Clint Hartung allowed nine hits in registering his second triumph.

Bill Voiselle, tall Braves' right-hander, knocked the Dodgers out of first place and into a triple tie for second by shutting out Brooklyn, 3-0. Jim Russell drove in Boston's first two runs with a third inning single and Earl Torgeson homered in the fifth.

It was a big day for New York and Boston for the Yankees and Red Sox in the American league also won. The Bronx Bombers, aided by a pair of costly miscues by Philadelphia Shortstop Eddie Joost, nipped the Athletics, 3-2. At the Yankee Stadium to increase their league lead to a full game over Chicago's White Sox. Vic Raschi, who shut out Washington last week, yielded six hits, the same number the Yankees got off loser Joe Coleman.

Second Shutout
Mel Parnell, young Red Sox south-paw, hung up his second successive shutout success, with a 2-0 triumph over the Washington Senators. He allowed only seven hits to the Nats who have now lost seven in a row since winning the season's opener.

The St. Louis Cardinals routed their old jinx, Ken Raffensberger, with a four run blast in the second inning and went on to whip the Cincinnati Red, 9-3, in a night game in St. Louis.

Rain washed out the scheduled game between the Chicago White Sox and Detroit's Tigers. Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns were not scheduled.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 26 (AP)—Eddie Lopat, the "hot weather" pitcher who already has won two chilly games for the Yankees, isn't fooling around much with the knuckle ball he tried during spring drills. . . . "My problem isn't getting it over the plate," explains red-headed Eddie, "but making it do something four out of five times." . . . Dr. George E. Bennett, the celebrated Baltimore surgeon, will be one of the principal speakers when the first athletic trainers' clinic on record is held at the University of Maryland, June 10-11. Probably he should take the Yankee squad along as exhibit "A".

QUICK FREEZE

Joe Bedenk, Penn State baseball and football coach, has a pitcher on his squad by the name of Joe Kelvington. . . . For rather obvious reasons, Joe switched it to "Kelvinator"—that is until he heard a spectator observe: "That pitcher must blow hot and cold."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Gene Rossides, who was "drafted" by the football giants, won't play for football because he has just received a new scholarship in Columbia law school. . . . If the pro leagues continue their bickering, Gene may be more useful as a lawyer than as a passer. . . . Jack Lavelle, who pursues a well-rounded career as football scout, track meet starter and CYO athletic director, will receive a plaque from the St. James Catholic high school for boys at Chester, Pa., Thursday for his outstanding contribution to American youth. . . . Sandy Saddler, the No. 1 featherweight title contender, spent a lot of time in the gym recently teaching a kid named Shaun McGinnis, who had only three pro fights. After working with Shaun once, Sandy proclaimed: "That's my kid."

HIGHER MATH DEPT.

While Welterweight Tony Janiro was on his recent visit to England, someone asked him his weight. . . . Tony, adopting very temporarily the British system of counting, replied: "Ten stone, two francs and twenty pence."

JONES GETS 9 HITS; 7 DOUBLES

Philadelphia, April 26 (AP) — It's double or nothing for Willie (Puddin') Head Jones. The rookie third sacker of the Philadelphia Phillies has nine hits for the season and seven of them are lousy doubles.

You'd think this would create quite a stir on the Phillies, a rookie hitting seven two baggers in the first week of the season. Well it doesn't faze the Phils a bit. They expect things like that from Puddin' Head.

"He's the most unusual guy I've ever managed," says Boss Eddie Sawyer. "You never know what Pud will do next. Let me tell you about last season at Toronto. Jones wasn't hitting so well and I asked him what the trouble was. 'Oh nothing Skipper,' he replied. But his poor hitting continued.

"I found out his wife was expecting a baby and Pud was worrying plenty. I called him over and told him to bring the Mrs. up to Toronto. 'No Skipper, I couldn't do that,' answered Jones. I asked him why not.

"Well Skipper, it's this way. If I bring the Mrs. here the baby will be born in Canada and then he couldn't grow up to be president of the United States. And you know," added Sawyer, "we Phillies really believe young Jones will be president in about 40 years."

State's New Fish Commission Created

Harrisburg, April 26 (AP) — Pennsylvania's Fishing Regulating agency took a new name today—The State Fish Commission.

Patterned after the game commission, the new commission will be composed of eight members, all of whom eventually will be named to eight year terms. The present commissioners, however, will stay on until their terms expire.

At the same time, French will hold his present post until the new agency can formally organize. He can be continued in his post if the commission desires.

Coach Bob Harpster, whose Gettysburg team inaugurates it Adams County Baseball league schedule by meeting New Oxford Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock on the high school field, today announced his probable starting lineup.

Bill Ecker is scheduled to do the hurling with his brother, "Bud" Ecker, former Gettysburg college star and now coach at Boiling Springs, as his likely receiver. In the event Ecker does not catch Ralph Johnson will receive the assignment.

The batting order and remainder of the lineup is expected to be as follows: Ken Knox, lf; "Reds" Fissell, ss; Ken Fair, 3b; Leonard Sites, 1b; Fred Wright, cf; Jay Hershey, 2b; Bill Elsenhart, rf; Ecker or Johnson, c, and Ecker, p.

YORK SPRINGS 9 TRIPS CANNERS

A three-run rally in the seventh inning gave York Springs high school a 6-3 over Biglerville in an Adams County league game played Monday afternoon at Biglerville. The game had been postponed from last Friday.

Six errors by the Cannners proved costly. Each team collected six safeties, Staub pounding out three for Biglerville while Wolf poled a pair of doubles for the winners.

This afternoon the Cannners will play at Hanover. On Friday Biglerville will be host to Boiling Springs at 4 p. m. At 2 p. m. the Biglerville track team will engage in a dual meet with Washington Township.

Mrs. Star Kitzmiller, of Buford avenue, fell into a tub of hot water Monday morning and badly scalded her hands and arms.

Wm. McSherry, Esq., will shortly replace the building on the corner of Baltimore and High streets with three new brick houses.

The electric cars now run every hour, leaving town on the hour and Round Top on the half hour.

S. D. Mehning, of Littlestown, recently sold Sefton and Flemming a fine 12 passenger excursion wagon and a "trap."

The Gettysburg Fire Company will hold their annual ball in Xalver hall, Wednesday evening, May 3rd. The public is invited to attend. Hot coffee and sandwiches will be served. Music by orchestra.

Married: Daugherty - Pritsch, April 23, in this place, by Rev. E. J. Kleffman, Harry F. Daugherty to Miss Annie E. Pritsch, both of this place.

T. J. Stahle Retires from "Compiler": It is stated authoritatively that Thos. J. Stahle has retired from the firm of Stahle & Brothers, editors and proprietors of the Gettysburg Compiler, giving up his interest in the paper to his brother, C. E. Stahle, Esq., who is now sole proprietor of the paper.

Mr. T. J. Stahle retires after nearly forty years spent in newspaper work and the printing business. He retires with the best wishes of the craft.

Drainage Company: A meeting of the subscribers to the stock of the proposed Drainage Company was held on Thursday, and an organization effected. Dr. J. W. C. O'Neal was chosen President; J. L. Kendlehart, Secretary, and C. E. Stahle, Treasurer; J. W. C. O'Neal, Wm. McSherry, J. M. Warner, H. C. Sanders, W. D. Armor, S. M. Bushman and C. E. Stahle, Directors.

The amount of the capital was fixed at $3,000, sixty shares of the par value of $50. The amount of $1650 had been subscribed.

A Good Home Town: It is a good thing when you have an opportunity to speak a word of recommendation for your home town. Take a walk out Baltimore street, or on any of our pleasant thoroughfares, one of these spring evenings, and if your mind is not too full of cares and troubles, you will say on your return that Gettysburg is a good home town and not a bad place in which to live.

True, the streets are not filled with the roar and bustle of city life; there are no grand operas every night; sensations are few and far between, and we have few wealthy and few uncomfortable poor citizens. Most of our people are happy, thrifty and prosperous.

If we cared to do so we could sit down and think of many things which the town lacks, but who cares to do so? Neath the pleasant shade of trees and with the spring-time odors of flowers in the air, it would be a morose and much discouraged man who would say that Gettysburg is not a good home town.

Personal Mention: Mrs. George Kohler, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Emory Bair, last week.

A reception to the Senior class of Seminary was tendered by Dr. and

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
PROGRESS THROUGH PROTEST

I once read that "crying babies get the most attention." Their protest gets results. If we study history we learn that all progress comes about by a virile protest. The protest of a people is evidence that all is not well, and ought to be corrected. Often it is a long process, but worth it.

The protest against the galley slave system brought an end to it. As have other protests, against slavery, child labor, long work hours, and poor compensation for hard work.

Said William Allen White: "The most precious gift God has given to this land is not its great riches of soil and forest and mine but the divine discontent planted in the hearts of the American people." Throughout the British Empire and America this great weapon of free protest is what has enriched the character of each.

That which makes the daily newspaper so great an influence in our daily lives is that it is not afraid to protest against public wrong. When that function is discarded the influence of the newspaper will be at an end.

It's the common people who run this world. They are in the great majority, so that when they protest, things happen and what happens is progress. No single group of rulers can long last where the people's best interests are ignored. Protests are potent in democracy for its government is representative, those serving in high positions being those whom the people at home sent upon their mission.

We only have justice in this world for so long as we protest against all injustice. No honest protest can long remain unheeded, even though incited by a small minority. A righteous cause travels fast. Protests against wanton killing have brought about laws to preserve our friends of the forest.

Everyone in a free land has the right to his own opinions, and the right to express them, and any protest that he utters will be welcomed so long as it is sincere, honest, and genuine, as well as constructive.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Circus."

COMMITTEE IS GIVEN NAMES OF 10 RED LEADERS

Washington, April 26 (AP)—The names of "nine or 10 Communist leaders" in one of Pittsburgh's key industrial areas have been supplied the House UnAmerican Activities committee by a mystery witness.

Officials of the House group disclosed yesterday that the witness, Milosh Knezevich, is a former Communist who is now working in the Westinghouse plant in Pittsburgh.

Committee officials said the alleged Communists named by Knezevich were in the Wilmerding (a Pittsburgh suburb) section of the party and that all but two are still employed in Pittsburgh plants.

Says Group Subversive Knezevich's name had been withheld prior to his appearance as a witness, the committee officials said, for protective purposes.

The committee spokesmen said Knezevich, identified as a tool worker, testified about a split in the Serbian portion of the Communist party and said a man named Steve Nelson was sent at one time to Pittsburgh to "try to cement the break."

The committee also received testimony from Judge Blair P. Gunther of Pittsburgh that the American Slav Congress is "subversive" and that its main aim is to "cripple our national defense apparatus." The jurist helped found the organization, the committee said, but later got out of it.

Fears Sabotage The Slav congress issued a statement saying that Slavish Americans had "repudiated" Gunther and added the Slav congress is seeking a democratic peace in the Roosevelt tradition.

Harry A. Sherman, also from Pittsburgh, former attorney for three locals of the CIO—United Electrical Workers union, told reporters he supplied the committee with information concerning Communism in the Turtle Creek Valley, an industrial area of East Pittsburgh.

Sherman said he is concerned about the chances for sabotage by strategically located Communists in this country.

He supplied the committee, Sherman added, with "legal evidence" that certain persons are Communists. He said he received the impression the House committee is more interested than ever before in obtaining evidence that might stand up in court.

LABOR BATTLE REACHES FLOOR

Washington, April 26 (AP)—The battle over repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act moved to the House floor today, with both sides saying they are confident of victory.

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) predicted the administration's labor bill will pass the House by Friday night. This bill would replace the present law with a Wagner act revamped to include some of President Truman's suggestions.

Republican House Leader Martin (Mass) predicted just as flatly that the substitute Wood bill—which would repeal Taft Hartley in name, but keep many of its features—will get a majority vote in the House.

Kelley, second ranking Democrat on the House Labor committee, has been assigned by Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) to be in charge of the administration bill throughout the debate, expected to last at least four days. The bill bears Lesinski's name.

Kelley told reporters that administration forces have enough votes "for sure" to beat off the substitute introduced by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.), a labor committee member.

The Wood bill is expected to get strong backing from both Republicans and southern Democrats.

Duff To Address State Bankers

Philadelphia, April 26 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff is scheduled to address the opening session of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association annual convention May 18-20 at Atlantic City, N. J.

Russell J. Hopkins, PBA president, announcing the program for the annual convention, said other first-day speakers will be Dr. William Y. Elliott, of Harvard university, and Vernon L. Clark, national director of the savings fund division of the U. S. Treasury.

State Secretary of Banking D. Emmert Brumbaugh also is listed as a speaker for the final session.

Norman T. Hayes, vice president of the Philadelphia National bank, has been nominated for president of the association, succeeding Hopkins, the report of the nominating committee disclosed.

Donald P. Horsey, president, First National Bank of Conshohocken, has been nominated for the vice presidency, while Bernard C. Wolfe, president, First National Bank of Towanda, has been nominated as treasurer.

ical Society. Engel said that under the new health system "every citizen would be regimented."

The word "solon" derives from an ancient Greek poet, philosopher and general, who as head of the city of Athens remodeled the government.

NEW CATECHISM FOR CATHOLICS

Washington, April 26 (AP)—The first major revision of a Roman Catholic catechism in the U. S., in over 60 years tells Catholics, in effect, they cannot "attend" Sunday mass by merely watching one over television.

The new 426-page religious textbook, climax of 12 years research by prelates and Catholic scholars known as the confraternity of Christian Doctrine, does not especially mention television.

But it says a person must be "bodily present" at the place where mass is celebrated in order to fulfill his obligations to the church. The confraternity in a separate press release linked this admonition to the question of television masses.

The National Catholic welfare conference representing the church's hierarchy said the new textbook—a revised edition of the Baltimore catechism used as a standard text for secondary schools and colleges in the United States since the 1880s—leaves the "basic doctrine unchanged."

But it pointed out that the familiar question-and-answer textbook now answers many modern-day questions not even thought of in the 1880s. It either covers for the first time or alters former positions on such things as war, government, labor-management problems, mercy killings and Communism.

URGES STRONG PROTEST ON RED NANKING ACTION

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, April 26 (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said today a state department protest should be "rammed down the throats" of Chinese Communists who invaded the American ambassador's home in Nanking.

"It's a serious affront," the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee told a reporter. "They've got to learn to respect United States rights and property."

The state department ordered the U. S. embassy to lodge a vigorous protest with Communist leaders yesterday, soon after it was reported that armed Communist troops had forced their way into the building and routed Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart out of bed.

But there was some question whether the Communists would take such a protest seriously. "I think the state department should make representations and ram them down their throats," Connally said angrily.

News dispatches and a report from the embassy said the troops, after pushing into the building, inspected the second floor and questioned members of the staff.

While they did not harm anyone or molest the property, they reportedly told a servant that Stuart was not to leave the compound in which he lived. That raised some fears here that the Communists might intend to keep the 72-year-old ambassador a prisoner.

"I think we've got to take a firm stand on this," Connally said.

Some—like Senator Knowland (R-Calif)—felt Stuart should have followed the nationalist government to Canton to avoid putting himself and his staff in a ticklish situation.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) another of those who felt Stuart should have left Nanking, commented: "I would not go to war over this thing." It was "regrettable," he said, but perhaps to be expected in a combat zone.

Cloud of Uncertainty Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah) said he did not think it grave enough "to get excited about." He termed the invasion "the usual action of ignorant soldiers."

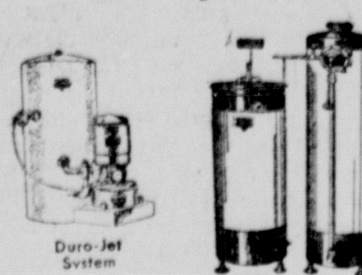

The invasion of the embassy and a report that the U. S. military attaché's plant at Nanking had been looted before the Communists entered the city raised a cloud of uncertainly over Stuart's scheduled return to this country for consultations.

The state department had announced calling him home just a few hours before the news that the embassy had been entered.

NEW THREAT TO WEST IN REDS' DRIVE IN CHINA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The steam-roller offensive of the powerful Red armies in China has created a fresh major crisis in the now-not-so-cold-war of the isms.

The Western powers had scarcely finished signing the Atlantic pact, to halt the Communist drive across Europe, when the Chinese Chieftain Mao Tse-tung forced the line of the mighty Yangtze. Thus almost overnight the West was confronted with another threat.

The weight of the attack had been shifted from the front defenses to those in the rear.

True the new thrust in the Orient is much further away than was the drive across Europe. The present danger is less imminent, and in that sense the situation is perhaps not so critical. Time now is with the West, just as it suddenly has turned against the Nationalist forces of China.

It's idle to speculate on how much time may be involved in the Chinese conflict. We know that the Communist resources, both military and economic, are great, while the Nationalist government's resources are terribly weak.

The Nationalists' most powerful defense against the Red forces from the north—the Yangtze—has been smashed. Their capital of Nanking has been occupied by the enemy—a shocking blow to the morale of the nation. A million and a half Red troops are ready for the drive southward through China.

What other estimate can be made when that the Nationalist situation is desperate? However, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is said to have planned a defense by zones as the Reds advance. Many of those zones with their troops are in the hands of war lords and, if they remain loyal to Chiang, the Nationalist defense might give the Communists a surprise. Speculation at this time is idle. We shall have to await developments.

Women's Pay Bill Defeated Monday

Harrisburg, April 26 (AP)—Party lines were crossed last night in a vote defeating a move to revise a 1947 law covering pay for equal work by women.

The present law requires equal pay except for a variation due to differences in seniority, training, experience or ability or differences in duties.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader, assailed both the 1947 law and the new proposal which would exempt employers if a wage differential is based "in good faith on factors other than sex."

The vote was 99-98, lacking the constitutional majority of 105 needed to pass legislation in the House.

DELAY COURT MARTIAL

Guam, April 26 (AP)—The court-martial trial of three Negro air force enlisted men charged with the slaying of Miss Ruth Farnsworth likely will be delayed until next Monday. Lt. Col. Andrian W. Tolon of Montrose, Colo., chief defense counsel, has asked that a defense witness be returned here from Alabama. The court is considering the matter. The witness, a Negro air force enlisted man, is on terminal leave and expected to be discharged from the service soon.

Harrisburg, April 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania's new fiscal officers will be inaugurated here at separate ceremonies on Monday, May 2, and Tuesday, May 3. Charles R. Barber, welfare secretary in Gov. James H. Duff's cabinet, will take his oath as state treasurer in the hall of the state House of Representatives on May 2 and former Senator Welburn B. Heyburn as auditor general on the following day in the Senate.

BELFLOWERS ARE EASY TO GROW

There are several excellent perennial and biennial flowers included under the common name of Bellflower-Canterbury Bells. Peach Bells, Blue Bells of Scotland, and others. They all belong to the Campanula genus and are extremely easy to grow in the lawn or garden border, either from seed sown in early spring under glass or from rooted plants set out after the soil is warm. The versatility of this genus is better understood when it is known that Campanula rapunculoides is a vegetable highly favored in many parts of the world. "Rapunculus" literally means little turnip. The leaves of this species are eaten as a greens or salad crop, the roots are used in much the same way as turnips and beets. Seed sown in open in early May and a second sowing in late June will provide salads and roots until late fall, with the late roots easily stored in sand or buried in outdoor pits for over-winter use.

The true Canterbury Bell is a biennial in habit and should be grown from seed sown under glass in early spring.

Often considered finest of the Campanulas is C. carpatia, sometimes called Carpathian Bluebells. It is a true perennial and, like the biennial form, should be started from seed sown under glass in March or even in late February.

Several seed catalogues list "annual" sorts of Canterbury Bells which differ in cultural requirements and flowering habits but little from the biennial sorts mentioned above.

There are also variants of the biennial form, including the so-called Cup-and-Saucer Canterbury Bell, which is properly listed as C. calycanthus. This comes in blue, rose and white shades.

Chimney Bell is C. pyramidalis. It is perennial in habit, bearing small lavender flowers in August and September.

Peach Bell is C. persicifolia, listed by most seed dealers in white, blue and mixed shades. The beautiful Harebell or Blue Bell of Scotland is listed as C. rotundifolia. It is low-growing in open sun but taller in its native woodland locations. This species may be wisely used in either the regular low border or rock garden.

As a general rule the dwarf sorts do better in light or partial shade and the taller species in full sun. In all cases plenty of organic matter in the soil to a liberal depth is appreciated.

The perennial sorts should be divided every two or three years to avoid decadence of blooming vigor. Of course, the divisions permit re-planting to multiply their numbers.

Instead of starting plants under glass, growers may buy rooted plants and set them out in late April or earlier if protection is afforded during inclement weather. Taller sorts should be spaced 8 to 12 inches apart; dwarf kinds should be grown in massed beds or colonies.

If seed is sown in midsummer and plants transplanted to their growing site in the fall, pine boughs placed over them after the ground is frozen will prevent winter injuries.

Both the biennial and perennial kinds will bloom the first season from seed sown under glass in March.

No growers report any severe disease or insect ravages.

Beginners with any questions on the culture of this large genus are invited to write the editor.

UMW GOES OVER NEW DEMANDS

Washington, April 26 (AP)—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers policy committee today sifted 1,035 suggestions from members for new contract demands on the soft coal operators.

It appeared from the resolutions which the 200-man committee had to consider that Lewis will concentrate this year on: (A) Boosting his 20 cents-a-ton welfare royalty (B) more pay, (C) shorter hours, (D) a share-the-work program, and (E) greater safety underground.

The present contract with the bituminous coal industry expires June 30.

UMW suggestions for a higher welfare and pension royalty hit an average of 40 cents a ton—double the present amount, which is yielding $100,000,000 a year.

The UMW chief has doubled that royalty in his last three contracts, starting with the 5 cents a ton which President Truman and Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug allowed him during government operation of the mines in 1946.

The policy committee was to reassemble this afternoon. Lewis had other union meetings scheduled for the morning. The policy committee, besides adopting a general line of action for the coming negotiations, will decide what answer—if any—to make to Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, who advised Lewis last week that the contract will end June 30.

Fail To Find Cause Of Fatal Explosion

Philadelphia, April 26 (AP)—Deputy Coroner Elmer McCausland said today a preliminary investigation failed to disclose the cause of a blast that killed a 52-year-old woman in her suburban Prospect Park apartment.

The explosion yesterday killed Mrs. Helen Krause and rocked the neighborhood, police reported. They said Mrs. Krause was alone in the kitchen when the blast blew out a rear kitchen wall and part of a sun porch.

The victim's husband, Emil Krause, 52, was asleep in a bedroom at the time. He was showered by glass from broken windows but escaped serious injury. There was no fire following the explosion.

Chapter 29

Two hours later they were having coffee in Ellen's apartment. Raff had pulled the couch up to the fireplace and a blazing fire warmed them.

"Well," he said, "as I was saying, if I hadn't cluttered my mind up with unimportant details such as thoughts about your shapely legs, I would have figured it out the minute you told me about the fire on Wednesday."

"But I still don't see how," she protested. "It was such a small thing. In fact, the only reason anyone paid any attention to it was because Dr. Hubbard woke up so mad, and then was so mean to Bill Griffith."

"That's right. The fire didn't do any damage. But you see, it did offer an excuse to get some water sprayed around that room. That's something I should have thought about immediately."

"But why?"

"He had to destroy the phosgene afterwards. And water will do it. Don't you see? It's so simple, I could kick myself for not having figured it out before."

"I'm sorry, but I don't see. Would you mind beginning at the very beginning?" she asked.

"Okay. To begin with, he planned the murder of Hubbard about two weeks ago. That was when the original copy of the proofs of the thesis arrived. The copy we found last night was a second one the publishers sent after Hubbard had written to say that the manuscript was overdue and hadn't been received yet."

"You must remember now what sort of person Worden is. He has a brilliant mind. There's no doubt about that. But at the same time he had the conviction that people were out to take advantage of him, that they thought he was nothing but a fool. So at last, with the publishing of his thesis, the world would know, would have proof of his brilliance. Imagine how he felt when he looked at the manuscript and found that it wasn't Eddie Worden's name that appeared as author, but Jasper Hubbard's! And he, Worden, the real brains behind the research, the one who had planned it and done all the work, got only a one-line credit in a footnote! No wonder he went off half-cocked."

"Then you mean that for two weeks Eddie was planning to murder the chief?" Ellen asked incredulously.

"That's right. The first thing he did was to order a package of those Egyptian cigarettes at the smoke shop on the campus. It wasn't hard to check on that. Hubbard was the only person on the campus who ever smoked them. That was the one spot in the whole scheme where Worden slipped up. He didn't know that Hubbard had given up smoking. And it was when Bray found the cigarette stub that it made him suspicious of the wastebasket fire."

"Sure," Ellen said sarcastically. "It's clear as mud to me."

"Well, look, honey, it's simple," Raff explained patiently. "Worden knew Hubbard took a nap every afternoon and that he was a sound sleeper. He also knew that Hubbard kept the electric heater going all the time in that room. All he had to do was to go in there and tip the bottle of chemicals so that the drops would fall on the red hot wires. He could hold his breath while he did that and he wouldn't breathe any of it himself. Then all he had to do would be to go for about 10 minutes. He could then come back and put the bottle back in its place and enough gas would be generated to kill a horse. But then there would be the problem of all that poison gas in the room. However, Worden realized that water, pure simple H<sub>2</sub>O, would destroy the gas."

"So that's why he made such a mess with that water?"

"What he did was to balance a lighted cigarette on the edge of the wastebasket. He crumpled a lot of carbon paper in the basket, and you know how inflammable that is. When the cigarette burned to the spot where it was balanced—and this took about ten minutes—it fell into the basket and set the paper blazing. Of course, Worden was waiting just outside by the water faucet."

"But supposing the cigarette fell the other way?" she asked.

"He took care of that, too. He put a wad of carbon paper on the floor outside the basket. Whichever way the cigarette fell, it would start a fire."

"They sat in silence for a few moments, puffing at their cigarettes."

A slight shudder went through Ellen. "I can't help feeling somehow that Fate took a hand in this. Supposing someone had seen Eddie going into the chief's office—the first time, I mean—to arrange the cigarette and billyfrinOnpidge2tillspew

"Worden didn't leave anything to Fate, as you call it. He knew that Fenton, Bray and Griffith were all in Bray's office at the other end of the hall priming Griffith for his forthcoming exam. He knew you, Ellen, were at the mimeograph office. He knew that Vereck wouldn't come to the campus until late in the afternoon. That left only Russell to dispose of."

"Exactly, and that wouldn't be easy. Paul shares Eddie's office."

Russell was on a skating date. Re-

"That's right. He was."

"A skating date that Worden had deliberately gotten Russell to arrange. That was the date that Worden bragged about breaking so that he could have the chance to move the furniture and throw out some of the Esquire pictures Russell had in the room. It certainly was an ingenious set-up."

Ellen asked, "How did Dr. Bray figure it out?"

Chapter 30

"Apparently on Thursday night," Raff continued. "Dr. Bray was rummaging around in Hubbard's office. He found the debris in or around the wastebasket—we'll never know which way that cigarette did fall. Anyway, he became curious when he found the cigarette stub, all water-soaked. Bray knew that Hubbard had given up smoking more than two months ago. When he saw that battle out of place he became suspicious. Then when I called and mentioned 'phosgene' he was convinced there had been foul play. The only thing that he didn't know was the identity of the culprit and the motive."

"But he called you later," she reminded him.

He nodded. "He called me later, that's true. Apparently he had gathered together the stuff in that envelope. At that time it meant to him that two people had a motive for killing Hubbard; namely, Fenton or you. Remember the two letters?"

"Then he really didn't know it was Eddie?" She was horrified.

"Apparently not. It certainly looked as if Hubbard was black-mailing the two of you the same way he was Bray. Apparently Bray didn't give Worden a thought. Anyway, after he called me he put the letters in the envelope and left them in Hubbard's office. He put the manuscript in the envelope, too. He was planning to talk to Worden about it the next morning."

"How do you know this?"

"Worden told us. When Bray came out of Hubbard's office he saw a light in Worden's room and came in to have a cigarette. He told Eddie that the manuscript had come and that they could go over it in the morning. He mentioned that Hubbard had put his own name as author, and not Worden's, but of course that would be rectified."

"Naturally, Worden was elated. Everything was turning out as he had planned. If only Bray had shut up at that point. But he went on talking about Hubbard—about what a rat he had been, and that he was even going to be a nuisance after death because there was going to be an investigation since it appeared that Hubbard had been murdered. Well, as you can imagine, Worden's house of cards collapsed immediately. He very cautiously tried to probe Bray for information, but all he got was that Bray was not quite sure who did it and that someone was coming over the morning to investigate. Bray left Worden then and went back into his own office to clear up some work. Worden got to thinking that if Bray were to die, and especially if it looked like suicide, then no attention would be paid to his conjectures about Hubbard. That way there would be no investigation of Hubbard's death or if there were then it would look as if Bray himself had done it and then committed suicide."

"Very neat!" Ellen said vehemently.

"Very neat is right. And if it hadn't been for Vereck I don't think we would have discovered that Bray had been murdered."

"What did Vereck have to do with it?"

"He was just the little man who came around. As soon as Worden decided he had to kill Bray, he got a syringe and filled it with cyanide. He walked right into Bray's office and jabbed the needle into his back right through his shirt. Bray died immediately. Worden typed out the suicide note and then arranged the syringe so that it looked like suicide. This was about five minutes to midnight. He knew that Vereck would be around shortly to inject his rats. He didn't dare leave then for fear he would encounter Vereck. So he turned out all the lights and waited. Sure enough, Vereck came and injected his rats and then left without suspecting a thing. After that Worden got his things and left. He left the light off so that Vereck wouldn't investigate when he came around on his next round three hours later. Worden was at the lab early yesterday morning so that he could 'discover' the suicide. However, I beat him to it, and what made me suspicious was that this so-called suicide had apparently done a senseless thing—namely, sat down in total darkness to jab a syringe of cyanide into his veins. It looked phony to me."

"Then Eddie was the one who broke into my apartment last night and bopped me on the head?"

"What he planned, really, was to eliminate you from the picture completely. I suppose he had the idea that if you died from a dose of cyanide in your coffee, it, too, would look like suicide."

"I had no idea he hated me so much," Ellen said.

"Well, he was so perturbed about the thesis, he couldn't think rationally. He was obsessed with the

"Of course, I did type it. But I didn't think it was unusual for a department chairman to list himself as author of research that a graduate student had done."

"Ah," said Raff sadly, "too true. But let's forget all this morbidity."

"What will happen to Eddie now?" she asked.

"We're going to keep him in the psychopathic division. He's got to be under observation for a while."

"Then they won't send him to prison?"

"I don't know. I hardly think that. He nodded solemnly as he glanced at his watch."

"It's exactly twenty-six hours since I first saw you adjusting your skirt. That's a long engagement, Mrs. Rafferty-to-be."

"Well, you're the doctor," she quipped as she smiled and lovingly placed her arms around his neck.

TAXING POWERS TO BE DEBATED

Harrisburg, April 26 (AP)—A House committee took up the job today of deciding how much to limit the taxing powers of local communities and school districts under a 1947 law.

The municipal corporations group slated a meeting to decide what to do with two Senate-passed measures on the subject with the Democratic minority already pushing for drastic changes in one or the other of them.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, the House minority leader, said the Democratic was pressing for a ban on all wage levies under the 1947 local tax law.

At the same time, Committee Chairman Howard Boorse (R-Montgomery) said he was approaching the bills "with an open mind" except that he would insist on a clause barring wage taxes on non-residents of communities imposing them.

The Senate last night passed 38-11 a measure barring such levies along with taxes on natural resources, manufactured and farm products and personal property levies.

The same bill, drafted by the Senate local government committee after months of conferences, would impose ceilings on such local taxes on amusements, wages, sales, mercantile trade and per capita levies. It also would require two taxing bodies in the same community to share revenues within the maximum rates.

Wins Acquittal On Plea Of Insanity

Easton, Pa., April 26 (AP)—A jury of seven women and five men yesterday acquitted Stanley W. Gum, 45, of Bangor, Pa., "by reason of insanity" in the fatal shooting last December of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Gum.

Presiding Judge C. T. Woodring of Northampton county court remanded Gum to prison after the jury's verdict was returned following five hours of deliberation.

During the trial, the commonwealth asked for the death penalty while the defense contended Gum was suffering from delusions.

It was testified that Gum went to his sister-in-law's home after buying some shells for a gun and shot her. Gum himself testified he shot Mrs. Gum because "she caused me trouble over property and other things."

requested to report to Mrs. Vernon Straley, Mrs. Charles Trostle or Miss Evelyn Reaver.

Funeral services were held this afternoon for John H. Koontz, 40, who died Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at his home, Taneytown R. 1, near Kump Station, following an illness of five months. The services which were in charge of his pastor, the Rev. Miles S. Reiff-snyder, were held starting at 2 o'clock in the J. W. ## New Way To Make Steel Is Announced

Pittsburgh, April 26 (AP)—Two Pittsburgh steel companies say they're making progress in learning a new way to make steel.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corp., and Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., have devised a method to make steel by directing jets of air across the surface of white-hot liquid pig iron.

The companies have been experimenting on the project several years, in cooperation with the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio.

They use a "turbo-heart," a vessel they hope will combine the advantages of the basic open hearth and acid Bessemer processes.

During 1947 and 1948 the companies said a sufficient number of trials were made with a 1,000-pound capacity "turbo-hearth" "to establish basic operating and metallurgical characteristics of the new process."

Experimental work has been so far advanced that plans are now being made to build a full-sized furnace.

2 WOMEN SEE HUSBANDS DIE

Baltimore, April 26 (AP)—Two women survivors lay in a Baltimore hospital today after watching their husbands' and a five-year-old boy drown when their boat capsized in wind-whipped Chesapeake bay.

The boy was Charles Wrightson, nephew of Mrs. Inez Wrightson, 25, who told a rescuer she held him in her arms while he drowned.

Police at nearby Essex, Md., said the capsizing eight miles east of Baltimore Sunday also cost the lives of John Wrightson, 37, and Fred Moon, 21.

Moon's 20-year-old wife and Mrs. Wrightson were both rescued by boatmen from the Baltimore Yacht club.

Cling To Debris

One of them, Charles H. Stark said Mrs. Wrightson told him she and her husband clung to debris, supporting their nephew. The boy cried continually, Stark quoted the woman, and swallowed water until he collapsed. They then released him.

Mrs. Wrightson said her husband became afraid the debris—a cushion and a can—wouldn't hold both of them much longer, so he swam off. His jacket was later found nearby.

Leland Way of Reading, Pa., said he found Mrs. Moon clinging to the overturned boat. She told him the 14-foot vessel had been spun around by a wave and her husband lost his grasp.

A private seaplane pilot later reported seeing the bodies of Wrightson and Moon, but they were not recovered immediately because of the rough water. The boy's body still was missing.

LIONS CLUB TO

Shade, will go to the convention city for one of the three days.

Club Thanks Cast

The Lions voted their thanks to the minister cast and all the committees that helped produce the show. Popular solos and choruses from the show were re-sung by the Lions during their dinner session. President D. E. Hess presided with 92 members and guests in attendance.

Edward J. Nowicki, Jr., introduced Mr. Knouse who spoke on "Public Relations in Business." Describing changes he has noted in the role of the public in business in the last 40 years, Mr. Knouse contrasted the "days of rugged individualism" with the present day situation "in which the public is keenly interested in what businessmen do and how they treat their employees and customers."

"The public interest in business has increased to such an extent that the government is coming into the picture more and more and some of the rugged old individualists can't take today's problems and are going out of business rather than have 'someone tell them how to run their business.'"

Suggests Solutions

The speaker said he feels that a solution to the problems of business can be found in two stories in the New Testament—the story of Jesus and the coin bearing the image of Caesar and the parable of the Good Samaritan. "In life and business, there's a place to hew the line on the exchange of dollars and there's a place for the understanding of the other fellow's point of view and interests," he continued.

"The practice of good public relations is uplifting. It is something that must be worked at and planned

CATTLE—Salable receipts at the Union Stock Yards were estimated at 1,600, but this number included approximately 500 head held from late last week. The fresh arrivals fell about 75 per cent short of a five number average in a week ago, and showed a decrease of 25 per cent from the corresponding day in 1948. In contrast to this local situation the salable cattle movement at the 12 principal mid-western public markets totaled 83,200 head, an increase of 13 per cent over the first day of last week and to figure an increase of 38 per cent over the same day a year ago.

Included in offerings was equivalent of 25 loads of slaughter steers and 10 loads of stocker and feeder cattle. Balance of market was made up mainly of cows with about a normal supply of bulls included.

Slaughter steers met a rather slow trade as salesmen resisted lower bids. Scented early sales about steady with last Thursday, but later trading was mostly 25-30c, but lower with some sales showing declines of more than 50c. Medium-grade steers with weight under 1,000 pounds, a small lot of choice 850-pound 4-H Club steer yearlings, top, $28.50; several small lots of good and choice yearling steers, $26-27, but not price for load lots, $25, for one load of mostly high-grade around 1,000-pound yearling steers. Most of the average-medium and good steers, $24-25; 292 pounds, $23.50-24.50. Fed old lots of common and low-medium, $21-22.50. Butcher source and showed little net price change. A package of good 676-pound steers and heifers, $25.50. Mostly old-head lots of common to low-good heifers, $20-22.

Dealings moderately active in cow department and price about steady with last Thursday in most cases. Good cows, $20-21, with most of sales, $20; common and medium cows, $17.50-20; heavier weights in low 225-250 pounds, $14.50-17; odd shelly canners, $13 and under.

Prices for bulls steady to 50c, lower, compared with last Thursday. Odd good sausage bulls top, $23, but most of the good sausage, $21-22.50; practical top, $22.25, but some interest in $26 for top in closing sounds. Most of the common and medium calves, $18-23, although prices, $15-24; odd light culls to $10.

HOGS—Dealings in the hog department fairly active after a slow start. Prices generally 25c, lower than last Friday. Equivalent of two single decks of sorted, mostly choice 100-210-pound barrows and gilts, $18.75-19, later price top but most of the good and choice trucked-in 190-225-pound barrows and gilts, $18.25-18.50. Heavier weights in low 225-250 pound class, $17.75-18; 250-275 pounds, $17-17.25; 275-300 pounds, $16.25-16.50; 300-350 pounds, $15.25-15.50; 350-400 pounds, $14.25-14.50; over 400 pounds, $13.25 down. Lighter weights in the 120-140-pound bracket, $13.50-13.75; 140-160 pounds, $12.75-13.00; 160-180 pounds, $11.85-12.25; good and choice sows, less than 400 pounds, $13.50-13.75, but odd choice 200-pound sows, $14.75; good 400-450 pounds, $12.50-12.75; over 450 pounds, from $11.50. Odd stages generally $2 under price for same weight sows. Bulk of all weight at outside quotations.

Garbage-fed hogs again met a narrow outlet and generally, $2 to $3 from price for same weight grain-fed hogs.

SHEEP—There were not enough receipts of any one class in the sheep division to permit an accurate comparison of prices. Trading largely confined to a quotation basis and quotations in most cases remained unchanged, compared with last Friday. Small lot of mostly choice 80-pound spring lambs, $3 above last Friday's quotation at $25. Same grade old-crop woolled lambs, $28, and woolled slaughter ewes, $12.50.

Employees of the P. W. Madison
Furniture company, a Mormon organization in Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1870, received specific instructions as to what was expected of them not only in the store but also their obligations to the church.

The following instructions were issued by that famous firm more than 75 years ago:

"Store will open at 7 a. m., close at 8 p. m., except on Saturday when it closes at 9 p. m. This store will remain closed each Sabbath.

Duties of Employees:

"Sweep floors, dust furniture, shelves and show cases, remember 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness.' Trim wicks, fill lamps, clean chimneys. Make your pens carefully, (but you may whittle the quills to suit your individual taste). Open windows for fresh air. Each clerk shall bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business.

"Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, gets shaved at the barber, or frequents pool halls or public halls, will give his employer every reason to suspect his integrity, worthy intentions, and all round honesty.

"Each employee is expected to pay his tithing to the church, that is, 10 per cent of his annual income. No matter what your income might be, you shall contribute no less than $25 per year to the church. Each employee will attend Sunday Sacrament meeting, and adequate time will be given to attend Fast meeting on Thursday. Also you are expected to attend your Sunday School.

"Men employees will be given one evening off each week for courting purposes or two evenings each week if they go regularly to church and attend church duties. After any employee has spent his 13 hours of labor in the store, he should then spend his leisure time in reading good books, and contemplating the Glories and Building up of the Kingdom of God."
